From our St. Vincent de Paul Society

In the Gospel today, Jesus says "Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing." Indeed, by helping the poor we can "bear much fruit" and we find that with Jesus we can do everything.

On this Ozanam Sunday we want to extend a BIG thank you to our Minnie Vinnie students from Christ the King School. A group of 4th and 5th grade students give up their lunch recess once a month to help pack HOPE bags containing home and personal essentials for families visited by the CK SVdP conference members. In addition, we are grateful to the Christ the King Preschool families who have donated HOPE bag items during this school year. This is just one way our school students and families bear much fruit for our neighbors.

Contact Bruce, the CK SVdP Conference President, at (509) 627-7295 to learn more about the CK Conference of St. Vincent de Paul.

Richland Secure Self Storage has graciously donated a storage unit to CK St. Vincent de Paul for furniture items donated to families in need. Please consider contacting RSSS for your storage unit needs.

Spiritual Practices

Ignatian Spirituality

Ignatian prayer opens our hearts to God's amazing creation. All created things of this world are gifts, given to humankind to help us get to heaven. But, of course, not all things are good for a particular individual. This is where discernment comes in. We must decide what created things will take us to God, and which will lead us away toward our own selfish needs or desires. To discern that, we must be willing to let go of the things that bind us, the things we're attached to, and embrace those that will take us to divine love. Through prayer, community, and spiritual direction, Ignatian Spirituality provides the tools a person needs to understand how to do this.

For this year's participants, the last meeting of the Spiritual Exercises in Everyday Life (SEEL) will be May 11 at 9 a.m. online. The theme will be Gifts of the Spiritual Exercises. To learn more about SEEL, please visit <https://seeltc.com>.

Carmelite Day of Reflection: Join the Christ the King Lay Carmelites on Saturday, May 4, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at St. Frances Cabrini church in Benton City. Fr. Lalo Chavez, our speaker, will address the theme 'Surrender to God by Living a Contemplative Life.' The day also includes prayer, Mass, meals, and confessions. Cost: $25; text 509-539-8010 to RSVP.

Carmelite Corner

Ten Day Spiritual Retreat by Titus Brandsma; taken from Essays on Titus Brandsma; Carmelite Media 2004 pages 247-261

Day XI of Retreat: Closing

Consecration to Our Queen and Mother

Renewed in spirit by this retreat, we fix our eyes on things above: "our homeland is in the heavens" (Phil 3:20). Let us rejoice by reason of our future glory and imprint it vividly in our spirit. The thought of heaven should be an important stimulus during life. This is our destiny: our retreat has confirmed it once more. There remains for us a brief struggle, a few years of renunciation and strife: these will not be overly difficult if we are on the alert. "Have confidence, my sons, I have overcome the world" (Jn 16:33)

Our Lady made the Way of the Cross lovingly, with commitment. "Was it not necessary?" (Lk 24:26). Our Queen and Mother knew that a sword of sorrow was to pierce her heart: this was her glory. There was no escape. And we? Do we follow her? Our Lady shows us the way of sacrifice. Later will come resurrection and ascension. But first we have to merit this glory: that's how God wills it. Our place, our throne is reserved for us; let it not slip from our grasp. We should say to Mary: "keep our place for us; we are coming!"

Sunday Reflection

Branching Out Isn't Always What It's Cracked Up to Be

"That's a really beautiful tree branch. Man, would you look at the bark on that thing? The others are real duds, but that low-hanging branch has really got it all together."

I've never heard anyone say this. Maybe I just need to hang out with more arborists, but I can't recall ever hearing someone admire the particular beauty of a single branch. When someone comments on a tree, it's usually the whole tree — perhaps a visual element of it, like the color of the leaves or its height. But people don't usually zero in on one branch.

Maybe that's because usually, if one branch is looking a little weak, chances are every other branch is, too.

The Bible tells us that when we bear fruit as good everyday stewards, it is for the Father's glory. We are the branch on His magnificent tree. What we have is from Him, and what we do likewise points back to Him. We also tend to reflect how well the other branches around us are incorporating the nutrients coming their way. That's all fine and good in theory. In practice, it can be an arduous exercise in humility.

When I do something virtuous or charitable or kind, there is a part of me that wants to stand out for it. I think that's true for all of us. We've given of ourselves in some way or overcome some human temptation to accomplish a little bit of good in this world, and even though we know God sees us, we'd really love for everyone else to see it, too.

It's a struggle, for sure. But we need to remember that our fruit belongs to the whole tree.
